Team Personality

Instructions: Each team member should use colours (see below) or their initials and then mark (on each line below) his/her overall score on each dimension of personality. Remember that each bar on your personality feedback report represents a percentile (0-100); you may need to approximate as exact scores are not provided but can be discerned visually by looking at the plot relative to the percentile bars on your score report. Repeat this process until all team members' scores are plotted below.
